Pink headsets from Powder Puff Pilot

Powder Puff Pilot, an online retailer of pilot products designed for women, has added pink aviation headsets to its selection. Company owner Sue Hughes, a CFI, says the headsets are part of a line of products designed to attract women to aviation by making them feel more comfortable in the cockpit. The headsets, which are bubble-gum pink and bear the company logo on the non-mic earcup, come in both active ($299) and passive ($179) noise reduction models. Order online.
